

The Treasures of

Romania

Led by Bishop Martin and Mrs Elspeth Shaw

Monday 19th - Wednesday 28th September 2022

The Treasures of Romania is your invitation to join a journey which reaches into the landscape, the history, the spirituality and the resilience of a nation steeped in its traditions. It will take us from the contemporary vibrancy of Bucharest on an arc of discovery as we fly to Cluj Napoca to begin our land journey. The initial staging post will be the rural area of Marmures with its ancient villages, wooden churches and traditional way of life. Our accommodation will be in a local Orthodox convent. We move on across the Carpathian mountains to the region of Bucovina legendary for its monastery churches with painted exterior walls, now recognized as of World Heritage status by UNESCO. There we shall join Orthodox Sunday worship. Our continuing journey takes us via Moldavia back through the Carpathians and the stunning Bicz Gorge into the forests, castles and medieval towns of Transylvania. A highlight will be an encounter with a traditional way of life and a night's accommodation in an historic mansion in Szeklerland. Our continuing progress will be via Sinaia with its complex of royal residences. We shall then visit a Children's Hospice in the care of an Orthodox priest. Our final night will be in a chateau in the Wallachia wine region before returning home full of vibrant memories and insights.

Every effort has been made to provide a journey which is less about tourism and more about a pilgrimage. It is designed to allow us to understand as much as possible about the identity of the people and of the regions we visit, including their spiritual heart in the Orthodox tradition. As well as the regular hotels, our accommodation involves a touch of monastic life for two nights and two nights in historic settings. The latter experience means that we have to forego the availability of single rooms for those two nights. There will be an optional daily Eucharist.

You are welcome to join us, but do not put off a decision too long as numbers are limited by accommodation.

Bishop Martin

Day 2: Tuesday, September 20

FULL-DAY TOUR OF BUCHAREST

After breakfast, full day sightseeing tour of Bucharest including a visit to the famous Parliament Palace. The walking tour includes Revolution Square and the bustling old centre of Bucharest. You'll also admire The Village Museum and famous boulevards and neighbourhoods of this interesting city.

The settlement of Bucharest was first mentioned in 1459 and, ever since, the town has been through a series of continuous changes, representing the central scene of Romania's political, artistic, university, financial and cultural life. Between the two world wars, due to the elegant architecture and to the elite living in Bucharest, the city was nicknamed "Little Paris". The Guinness Book of Records registers the Palace of Parliament as the second largest administrative building in the World, after the Pentagon – with a floor area of 330,000m² – and the third in the world by volume, with 2,550,000m³. The building is situated in the historical and geographical centre of Bucharest and it was built on a hill. The building, which was started in July 1984, is structured on six levels and divided into 21 areas. It includes a huge combination of monumental sculptures, gilded ornaments, decorative flooring, laced ceilings, brocade curtains, heavy carpets and tapestry, all in a succession of chambers, galleries, lavish vast rooms and halls, which split themselves or merge in a simple, overwhelming and harmonious way.

Located in a green area of Bucharest and inaugurated in 1936, The Village Museum is one of the most beautiful and most interesting museums in the country. It boasts old and original houses brought from different parts of the country. While at the Museum there will be a meeting with a person from the Orthodox Church, including discussion about the life of the church.

In Revolution Square you'll get the story of the anticommunist revolution from 1989 and you'll find out more about the hardships an entire nation had to suffer for 45 years.

The day ends with what became the most bustling area of Bucharest, the Old Centre. Once the place of princely families and nobles, later an area of the craftsmen, the Old Centre has become today the Mecca of bars, restaurants and quaint cobblestone streets.

Return to hotel; opportunity to explore local facilities for dinner at own initiative and cost. Accommodation in Bucharest: 4-star hotel

The local wooden church, built in the 18th century, is an amazing example of the local architecture, a wooden church surrounded by a well-preserved rural landscape. You will visit a former prison where during the communist years many important Romanian leaders, but also common people who were against the regime, lost their lives.

Carry on to Sapanta village where you will admire the famous Merry Cemetery. The Merry Cemetery has gained originality and value by means of the chopped, carved and painted crosses on which the artisans have chiselled out versified epitaphs; most of them display a remarkable sense of humour, particular to the area and to all the Romanians. The value of these works of art is recognised both at home and abroad.

In the same village you'll stop to admire the highest wooden structure in the world: Peri Convent, recently rebuilt.

After this, you will leave the village of Barsana and head to the Bucovina historical region. First, you will have one last stop in a village in Maramures and visit a small but beautiful museum dedicated to the Romanian woman. This is the first museum in the country dedicated exclusively to the woman. Here, you can understand and see all the occupations of the peasant women from birth to death. The charm of the unusual museum depends on the special location, the originality of the construction and the exhibits, but also on the authenticity of the guide, who is also a woman, a local peasant. Her stories about the unique museum are not just learned stories to make visitors curious! They are life stories, and she tells them in an original way.

Then, cross the Carpathian Mountains and enter for the first time Bucovina, known for its painted monasteries and for the traditional houses adorned with beautiful floral and geometrical motifs, for its traditions kept over the centuries and for its hospitable people. The tour of Bucovina includes several painted churches, all of them UNESCO sites. We will begin with a stop at the Museum of Eggs where you will admire a great exhibition of painted eggs and see an egg painting demonstration. You'll receive explanations about the frescoes and why they were painted on the exterior walls more than 400 years ago.
